General Conditions of Export

1. Sphere of Application
Principally these General Conditions of Export (hereinafter referred to as “GCE”) apply to all - also future - deliveries, services and offers of SPEC-TRUM Instrumentation GmbH, Ahrensfelder Weg 13-17, D-22927 Grosshansdorf, Germany (hereinafter referred to as “Seller”), provided that they have not been modified or excluded expressly and in writing.

2. Conclusion of the Contract, Prices, Packing and Packing Costs, Dispatchment, Transport Insurance, Export Control Regulations
2.1 Any offers of the Seller are without obligation.
If the Seller has fixed a time for acceptance in its written and firm offer, the contract shall be concluded at the latest on the day of expiration of such period has been accepted a written acceptance, as long as such acceptance reaches the Seller at least within 3 days after the fixed expiration date. The contractual content is defined by the specification of the Seller.
2.2 All prices are for delivery Free Carrier (FCA Incoterms 2020), packaging costs and German Value Added Tax excluded (refer to 2.3 and 3.1). Buyers from the European Union have to indicate their VAT-Ident. No. or the VAT-Ident. No. of the destination entity at the formation of the contract. Buyers from outside the European Union are not charged with German VAT.
2.3 Unless otherwise agreed packing shall be at the discretion of the Seller and shall be charged at self-cost. The Buyer is obliged to dispose of all packing materials.
2.4 The goods are dispatched on charge and at the risk of the Buyer. The Seller shall not provide for the insurance of transport risks.
2.5 Delivered devices and auxiliary means have to be assembled by the Buyer.
2.6 The fulfillment of contractual obligations is under the condition that there are no export control obstacles and all necessary export permits are available. The Seller shall not be responsible for delay in delivery or non-fulfillment due to export control or embargo restrictions. The Seller is entitled to demand the relevant documents and an end-user certificate according to his request.

3. Delivery, Passing of Risk, Declaration
3.1 Unless otherwise agreed in writing, all deliveries will be effected exclusively FCA (Incoterms 2020). Any agreed deviating trade terms shall be interpreted according to the Incoterms of the International Chamber of Commerce, Paris.
3.2 Partial deliveries are permitted.

4. Time for Delivery, Delay, Cancellation of the Contract
4.1 Any dates of delivery are without obligation and only binding if agreed expressly and in writing. The period of time for delivery begins to run with dispatchment of the sales confirmation, but neither prior to the production of all documents, licenses, permits and further formalities which are required of the Buyer. In case of reservations, the agreed delivery dates are extended. No. 4.2 applies accordingly.
4.2 If the Seller is responsible for delay of delivery, the Buyer, after 3 weeks of delay - excluding other claims - is entitled to liquidated damages - if he substantiates that he has incurred damages - for each further week of delay, payable at a rate of 0.5 %, but not exceeding 5% in total – calculated on the value of that part of delivery which, as a consequence of the delay, cannot be used as intended. No. 8.2 applies accordingly.
4.3 If the maximum liquidated damages according to no. 4.2 are reached, the Buyer – after he has fixed an additional reasonable period combined with the announcement that acceptance of delivery will be refused - may notify the Seller in writing of the termination of the contract in respect of that part of the goods which are delayed, except where the Seller delivers prior to termination.
4.4 If the Buyer is in delay with an essential contractual obligation, the Seller is entitled to extend the period of time for delivery according to the period of delay. No. 5 applies analogously.

5. Acceptance of Delivery
The Buyer bears all costs of storage, insurance, protection measures etc., arising from any delay acceptance. Without further proof the Buyer must pay per week of delay liquidated damages of at least 0.5 % of the order value, but not exceeding 5% in total.
The Seller may demand, by notice in writing, the Buyer to accept delivery within an additional period of time if the Buyer has not accepted delivery at the fixed time of delivery. Nevertheless, this does not affect the Seller’s claim to the purchase price.
After expiration of the additional period the Seller is entitled to terminate the contract in whole or partly by notice in writing and claim damages including claims for loss of profit.

6. Payment
6.1 Unless otherwise agreed, all payments must be effected with receipt of Seller's pro forma invoice by advance payment or by confirmed letter of credit (or bank guarantee, bond). The “Uniform Customs and Practices for Documentary Credits” of the International Chamber of Commerce, Paris, (ERA 600), are applicable. All payments shall be effected in EURO without regard to any fluctuations of the currency exchange rate and without any reduction or discount “free pay office” of the Seller.
6.2 In case of late payment, the Seller is entitled to interest from the date on which payment was due. The rate of interest shall be 9 percentage points p. a. above the prime bank rate of the European Central Bank. The Seller in so far may suspend performance of the contract.
If the Buyer has not paid the agreed amount within a reasonable additional period not to exceed 1 month after the payment was due, the Seller shall be entitled to terminate the contract by notice in writing and claim compensation for any loss including claims for loss of profit it has incurred.
6.3 [Creditworthiness, delay in payment]
If any particular circumstances create considerable doubts regarding the Buyer’s creditworthiness, all claims resulting from the whole business relationship shall become due immediately.
The Seller also then is entitled to demand delivery against advance payment. Sentence 1 applies accordingly regarding Buyer’s delay in payment for another contract with the Seller.
If payment in installments is agreed and the Buyer delays more than 10 % of the owed purchase price, the entire purchase price shall become due immediately.

7. Liability for Conformity of the Goods
7.1 (Duty of examination and notification)
After acceptance, the Buyer must examine the goods without delay. Therefore he must observe the recognized industry standards. In any case, the Buyer loses the right to rely on a lack of conformity of the goods if it does not give notice to the Seller, exactly specifying the nature of the lack of conformity, as soon as he has discovered it or ought to have discovered it.
After arrangement with the Seller the Buyer is responsible for the securing of all proofs.
The Seller has to be informed about any transport damages without delay. A written confirmation of the carrier regarding such damages has to be sent to the Seller.
7.2 (Handling and storage)
The proof of careful treatment and adequate and dry storage of the goods devolves on the Buyer.
7.3 (Remedy of defects, substitutional delivery)
If the goods do not conform to the contract, the Seller may remedy the lack of conformity at first and at its own discretion within four weeks after the Buyer’s request and, even if the defects are substantial, by repair or substitutional delivery.
The Buyer - on reasonable demand and according to the directions of the Seller - is obliged to participate in any repair works. Upon request the Buyer is obliged to send the goods to the Seller for repair.
7.4 (Pro rata reduction, termination of the contract)
If the Seller fails to remedy the lack of conformity according to no. 7.3 by repair or replacement, the Buyer is entitled to a reasonable pro rata reduction of the purchase price. If the lack of conformity is fundamental, the Buyer may fix a final period for fulfillment and after fruitless expiration of such final period demand termination of the contract.
7.5 The Seller is liable for indirect losses only according to the stipulations of no. 8.2.
7.6 (Deviations customary in trade, changes in construction)
Deviations, which are customary in trade, regarding quantities, measures, quality, weights etc. are permitted. Equivalent changes in construction are reserved.
Regarding customer specific items and goods furnished with particular advertising deviations in the delivery volume of up to 10% more or less are reserved.
7.7 (Observation of Seller’s instructions)
Instructions of the Seller about the further manufacturing/treatment or application of the goods must be observed by the Buyer, otherwise damages resulting thereof have to be borne by the Buyer.

8. Liability for subsidiary Duties, General Limitation of Liability
8.1 The Seller is only liable for the contractual or pre-contractual subsidiary duties according to the provisions of nos. 4, 5, 6, 7, 8 and 11.
8.2 Save as stipulated in nos. 4, 2, 4 and 7.4 through 7, 8, 10 and 11 the Seller shall - without regard to the legal reasons - not be liable for any lack of conformity and damages. This applies to any damages caused by the defect or rights of third parties, including losses of production, profit or other indirect losses, whatsoever, (losses and damages not incurred in the delivered goods themselves).
In case of responsibility for a breach of fundamental contractual obligations the Seller is liable, also in case of gross negligence, but only for typical contractual losses which could have been reasonably foreseen. The Seller in any case is liable, however, for gross negligence, for particularly rendered guarantees, fraud, culpable caused damages to life, body or health if or for there is compulsory liability regarding physical injuries or damages to private items under German or foreign product liability laws.

9.1 The Seller is entitled to dispose at its discretion of any tools produced for particular (customer specific) parts within one year after performance of the contract.
9.2 All rights regarding Seller’s samples, tools, devices, drawings, drafts and plans, especially patent, copy- and invention rights shall remain property of the Seller. Any documents pertaining to an offer, such as pictures, drawings, weights, measures, capacities or data on further qualifications and other information about the contractual products and services, are only binding approximatively. All proprietary and copyrights regarding information of the Seller – also in electronic form – remain with the latter.
9.3 Any software supplied by the Seller shall remain property of the latter. The Buyer shall be obligated to use such software in accordance with the legal requirements.
9.4 Any software delivered by the Seller shall be subject to the following conditions:

10. Non-Performance, Impossibility, Inability
As far as the Buyer is not able to deliver in whole or partially, the Buyer may terminate the contract by notice in writing to the Seller in respect of that part which is not delivered, save where acceptance of partial performance should be an unreasonable demand. Nos. 8.2 and 11 apply accordingly.

11. Act of God
Each party shall not be liable for non-performance, if performance is prevented by circumstances beyond the party’s control or by one or more of the following circumstances: fire, natural disasters, war, seizure, restriction of export, embargo or other import measures, embargo, export, embargo restrictions, general shortage of materials, restrictions in the use of power, industrial disputes or if a breach of contract of subcontractors is caused by any such circumstances.

12. Term of Limitation
12.1 All claims of the Buyer based on a lack of conformity of the goods manufactured by the supplier shall be time limited and statute barred within 60 months calculated from the passing of risk (no. 3). This does not apply to merchandise not manufactured by the supplier.
12.2 All other claims of the Buyer shall be time limited and statute barred within 12 months calculated from the date of their occurrence. The Seller’s liability is limited to any lack of conformity, which appears within this period. This does not affect the lawful time limitation of claims, which occurs according to no. 8.2.

13. Retention of Title and Ownership
13.1 All delivered goods remain property of the Seller until all his purchase price claims resulting from the underlying contractual relationship are fully paid for as far as such retention of ownership is valid under the applicable law. If the validity of the retention of ownership is subject to special conditions or regulations in the country of destination, the Buyer is responsible for the observation and compliance with those conditions or regulations. He shall inform the Seller thereof.
13.2 The Buyer shall assist the Seller in taking any measures necessary to protect the Seller’s ownership and title to the product in the country concerned. The Buyer shall inform the Seller of any dangers regarding the property of the Seller should occur. This applies especially to supplies of third parties or authority measures.
13.3 The Seller – after a reminder – is entitled to cancel the contract and to take back any goods delivered under retention of title after fruitless expiration of a reasonable additional period noticed to the Buyer and to annul the contract, if the Buyer does not fulfill his contractual obligations, especially if payment is delayed. The Seller is not obliged to fix an additional period if there are legal exceptions.
14. Take-back and disposal
14.1 When he has finished using the delivered goods, the Buyer undertakes to dispose of them at its own expense in accordance with the statutory regulations. The Buyer is required to take back any goods delivered under retention of title after fruitless expiration of a reasonable additional period noticed to the Buyer and to annul the contract, if the Buyer does not fulfill his contractual obligations, especially if payment is delayed. The Seller is not obliged to fix an additional period if there are legal exceptions.
14.2 The Buyer is obligated to bind to contract any commercial third party to whom he passes on unsold goods, to dispose of the goods in the proper manner as stipulated by the legal regulations at his own expense when he has finished using them, and to impose a corresponding obligation on anyone to whom he has passed on the same goods. The Buyer shall have a non-exclusive license to make use of such software.
14.3 If the Buyer fails to fulfill the requirement in accordance with no. 14.2 he is obliged to take back the delivered goods after the third party has finished using them and to dispose of them in the proper manner in accordance with the legal requirements.
14.4 The Seller’s claims in accordance with no. 14.1 do not come under the statute of limitations until two years have elapsed after the user has ultimately finished using the device. The two-year period of suspension of the statute of limitation commences at the earliest when the Seller receives written notification from the Buyer indicating that he has finished using the device.

15. Miscellaneous
15.1 All contractual rights and duties of either party are not assignable, except assignments of claims to banks the Seller claims to banks, including all costs and expenses occurring before and outside the courts and assist the Seller on its demand in any litigation against claims of third parties based on infringement of the aforesaid industrial property rights.
16. Compliance with Law
The Seller is responsible for the compliance with the relevant German regulations, which are decisive unless otherwise agreed and not as far as products made in Germany are exported. The observation and implementation of the relevant foreign trade law (e.g. import or foreign exchange licenses etc.) and foreign laws outside Germany is the Buyer’s obligation.
17. Place of Performance, Dispute Resolution, Applicable Law
17.1 Place of performance shall be – if no agreement otherwise - the works of the Seller in D-22927 Großenhansdorf.
17.2 All disputes arising out of or in connection with contracts under these GCE shall be finally settled without recourse to the courts, in accordance with the Rules of Arbitration of the International Chamber of Commerce, Paris, by one or more arbitrators designated in conformity with the said Rules. The losing Party, as determined by the Arbitrators, shall pay all expenses incurred by the prevailing Party in connection with any such dispute. Languages of arbitration shall be English. Place of arbitration shall be D-20335 Hamburg, Germany.
17.3 Instead the arbitration court provided for in no. 17.2 the competent state courts for D-20335 Hamburg, Germany, shall make final and binding decisions, regarding disputes with Buyers from the European Union or from Iceland, Norway or Switzerland.
17.4 The Seller in any case and at its discretion is entitled to invoke the state courts at the place of business of the Buyer. In so far the competence of nos. 17.2 and 17.3 will become obsolete.
17.5 All contracts concluded under this GCE shall be subject to the United Nations Convention on Contracts for the International Sale of Goods (CISG) from 11.04.1980. Subsidiary substantive and procedural law shall be that in force at the Seller’s place of business in Germany.

18. Data Protection Law, General Data Protection Regulation (GDPR)
As far as any personal data are processed by the Seller within the scope of the contractual relationship or in preparation of the contract, the Seller shall process these solely within the scope of the statutory provisions, in particular under in compliance with the provisions of the European General Data Protection Regulation (GDPR) and the EU Data Protection and Treatment and Implementation Act (Datenschutzanpassungs- und Umsetzungsgesetz EU, BDSG neu).
The Seller shall process the personal data of the Buyer which the Seller obtains from the Buyer or from any third parties within the scope of contract preparation and execution. These usually are contact details (name, address, phone number, email address), bank and payment transaction details (bank, account details, payment reference, credit card information if applicable), information from publicly available sources, information from databases and credit agencies (e.g. internet, commercial register, rating agency) as well as other data that the Buyer provides to the Seller freely.
The Seller will transmit the Buyer’s personal data to public authorities/pub lic bodies as far as required by predominant legal provisions.
If applicable, the Seller will transmit the Buyer’s personal data to companies of the Seller’s group of undertakings and to external service providers. The latter may be located outside of the European Economic Area and may not have the same level of the protection of personal data. In such a case, the Seller shall ensure that transmission takes place solely in compliance with the statutory provisions.
The buyer has the right to obtain information about his personal data stored by the seller, to have inaccurately stored personal data rectified or to change his consent to processing activities at any time, also without stating any reasons, effective for the future, to revoke it, to have processing of his personal data restricted for the future, to object to it or to demand deletion. The buyer has the right to lodge a complaint with a data protection authority. The supervisory authority competent for the seller is the state officer for data protection in Schleswig-Holstein, Holstenstrasse 98, 24103 Kiel.
